

Heat Transfer Fluids

Superior Solvents and Chemicals provides a complete line of heat transfer fluids, as well as a fully integrated system to install your new fluid, dispose of your old fluid, and thoroughly condition your systems to ensure peak performance.

Process

When servicing heat transfer fluids, you can be assured that Superior will take care of the entire process in a timely and efficient manner.

First, we offer a comprehensive line of heat transfer fluids for many applications, including:

- Industrial Heat Transfer
- HVAC
- Food Plants
- Injection Molding
- Geothermal Systems

To prepare your system for fresh fluid, we offer proprietary solutions that are formulated to clean newly constructed systems and to restore older systems before recharging.

Then, based on more than 20 years of experience, Superior provides consultation and services to dispose of your old fluid in an environmentally sound manner ... and to safely and efficiently install your new fluid.

But the process doesn't stop there. With your purchase of our heat transfer solutions, you will receive ongoing analytical services. Superior's laboratories will monitor the condition of your fluid to help ensure many years of trouble-free service.
